The Class met on Commencement, June 29, 1881, at Holworthy 2.

A business meeting was held at one o'clock. Johnson stated that Mr. William G. Weld, of Boston, had stated his intention of giving to the Class one thousand dollars. He has since delivered to Russell, the Class Treasurer, a six per cent. bond for $1000, of the Mass. Central Railroad, now worth par, and payable in 1900. The conditions are that it is to be called the George W. Weld Fund; the income only is to be expended, and the principal is to revert to the last survivor of the Class.

A resolution of thanks was passed, a copy of which has been forwarded to Mr. Weld by the Secretary.

On motion of Johnson, a vote of thanks was passed to the Secretary for his labor last year in getting out the Class Book.

The Class Window was in place in Memorial Hall, and received much commendation.

The Class Fund having been exhausted by the expense of the Anniversary Dinner of last year and the Class Book, a subscription was started. Johnson, Russell, B. F. D. Adams, Wetmore, A. F. Wadsworth, Niles, Doe and F. M. Weld, each gave $25. It is hoped that other members of the Class will send contributions to Gen. H. S. Russell, Milton, Mass. We need to accumulate funds, in order to be able to aid unfortunate classmates, pay for Commencement expenses, annual circulars and records, &c. We also must have enough to be able to make free to all our quarter-centennial celebration in 1885, which will undoubtedly be the event of the Nineteenth Century.
